As a professional photographer with over 20 years of experience, apart from developing the skills and knowledge required to become a successful author, I believe that photography is one of the truest measures of anything in this world. The deeper you observe, the more you discover how unprejudiced, leading edge, and honest photography is today. Visualisation represents the first step in creating, while a good picture would never let us being wrong about anything as it has to make us feel strong and confident in our convictions. Photography is in my opinion one of the greatest tools we have acquired in our lifetime; it allows us to witness, take a picture of what we have been expecting to see, of what we have visualised, and most of all, to satisfy our curiosity and charm. It allows us to create things we imagine, create human experiences. It is the source of visuals, it is the source of requests, it is the source of communication, it is the source of legends, and it is the source of ideas. I have been dedicated to photography for over 20 years now and have never seen anything like this in the world in every aspect. It is drawing an analogy with traditional fine art and literary writing, I would say, and creative writing, which requires a great knowledge and understanding of many topics and disciplines, with drawing the bridge. I want to leave you overall with a very broad and widespread message, inspired by these truths: it's about adding vibrancy to any subject, therefore, photography can be inspiring, photographed landscapes that you don't have to travel to get to immediately connect with emotionally. e3d0a04c9c
